COST OF LIVING

Exchange rates (on October 17, 2019):

US$1 = 102.32 RSD, €1 = 118.21 RSD, UK£1 = 134.73 RSD

- Transport:

*Public transport one-way fare (valid for 90 minutes, zones 1 and 2): 150 RSD/€1.26 (bought on a bus/tram/trolley), 89 RSD/€0.75 (bought in advance)

*Taxi

If calling a taxi in Belgrade, you can expect its arrival promptly- usually within 2 minutes of your call. However, they will be harder to reach during rush hour (around 5 pm) or in harsh weather (in Belgrade, that includes drizzling rain). The average fare around the downtown should not be higher than 400-600 RSD / €3.4-5 (around 1500 RSD/ €12.7 to the airport Nikola Tesla from the downtown, and 1800 RSD/€ 15.23 from the airport Nikola Tesla to the downtown). Every Belgrade taxi company has 2 signs: a company unique sign and a smaller blue one with 4 numbers - a distinctive numeral of each vehicle. If you grab a cab without the second sign - chances are that it's illegal.

IMPORTANT:

It is recommended that for the use of taxi services from Belgrade Nikola Tesla Airport to any destination in Belgrade area and further, you contact the city service TAXI INFO desk, located in the baggage reclaim area. Please take a taxi receipt at the information desk that contains the name of your destination and appropriate price for the taxi service. For more information, please visit <http://www.beg.aero/en/strana/8871/sa-aerodroma-nikola-tesla>.

Non-legal cab drivers at the airport, the central railway and bus station, tend to GREATLY embellish the prices.

Restaurants

The Serbian gastronomy (and not only gastronomy) was formed under the influence of all the cultures that subsisted in Belgrade throughout history. Belgrade restaurants will provide flavours of Mediterranean, Oriental, and central European (above all Hungarian) dishes.

Serbian traditional cooking involves grilled meat, beans and many cabbage-based meals. Bean broth (“pasulj” in Serbian) or cabbage are most often prepared with meat

INFORMATION FOR SPECIAL NEEDS STUDENTS

Faculty of Philosophy, University of Belgrade catering for special needs, incorporates on its premises three elevators, that are overcoming physical barriers.

Floors are horizontal, with no thresholds at the entrances to the Faculty (by way of Knez Mihajlova St.), administrative or secretarial offices.

Halls and auditoriums in which lectures, workshops and courses are conducted are accessible by way of ramps on the first, and directly on all other floors, and are spacious with student seats not being set, responding to the needs of those with mobility difficulties.

HEALTH INSURANCE FOR FOREIGN CITIZENS

Foreign citizens, as well as Serbian citizens who live and work abroad, are entitled to receive urgent medical care.

Foreign citizens exercise their right to urgent medical care based on certain forms (if such have been prescribed), European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) or on the basis of a document proving their insurance coverage in their home country.

Citizens of the following countries exercise their right to urgent medical care on the basis of a prescribed form: Luxembourg (Certificate LUX/SRB-111), Belgium (Certificate BE/SRB 111), Netherlands (Certificate N/Y-111), Italy (Certificate: IT-7), France (Certificate: SE-21-03A and SE-21-04A), Montenegro (Certificate MNE/SRB-111), Bosnia and Herzegovina (BIH/SRB-111), Macedonia (certificate: RM/SRB 111), Romania (certificate: Y/R 11) and Turkey (TR/SRB 111).

Citizens of the following countries exercise their right to urgent medical care based on the European Health Insurance Card: Austria, Bulgaria, Croatia, Hungary, Germany, Slovakia, Slovenia and the Czech Republic.

Citizens of Poland and Great Britain exercise their right to urgent medical care based on the certificate of insurance issued in their home country.

In case citizens of the above countries do not have a necessary certificate with them, there is a possibility of providing them with urgent medical care and the certificate is to be requested from their home country insurance organization subsequently.

Foreign citizens who are chronic or acute patients (undergoing dialysis or insulin treatments) need special certificates in view of receiving adequate medical services free of charge in Serbia.

Citizens of the countries with which Serbia has concluded an international agreement on health insurance pay for urgent medical services received during their temporary stay in Serbia. Upon return to their home country, their insurance companies may reimburse them the said amounts.

EXTRA – MURAL AND LEASURE ACTIVITIES

TIME

Serbia is in the Central European Time Zone: GMT + 1 hours, (in winter), GMT + 2 during daylight saving time. When it is noon in Belgrade, it is 11AM in London, 6AM in New York, 9PM in Sydney and 2PM in Moscow.

CLIMATE

The climate of Belgrade is a moderate continental one, with four seasons. The annual average air temperature is 11.7<sup>0</sup>C. Autumn is longer than spring, with long, warm, sunny periods (the so-called "miholjsko leto", a Serbian "Indian summer"). Winter is not excessively harsh, with an average of 21 days below zero. Spring is short and wet. Summer comes suddenly. January is the coldest month with a mean temperature of 0.1<sup>0</sup>C while the warmest is June at 22.1<sup>0</sup>C. Belgrade is characterised by a south easterly and easterly wind called the Košava, which brings clear and dry weather with it. It most often blows in autumn and winter, for periods of 2 to 3 days, at a typical speed of 25 to 43 km/h. Belgrade sees precipitation on 137 days on average per year, 27 of which see snow. The heaviest rainfall is in May and June, while February has the least. Most common are rains lasting one day. The average annual precipitation is 669.5 l/m<sup>2</sup>. The mean atmospheric pressure in Belgrade is 1001 mb and the mean relative air humidity is 69.5%

MONEY

The Serbian currency is the dinar (RSD). The first mention of a "Serbian dinar" dates back to 1214. Each dinar is divided into 100 paras, no longer in use, thus prices at shops are rounded off. Coins come in the following denominations: 1, 2, 5, 10 and 20 dinars. The banknotes come in denominations of 10, 20, 50, 100, 200, 500, 1,000 and 5,000 dinars.

You can change money in a bank or any of the exchange offices in the city (they are marked with the logo of the National Bank of Serbia). The differences in exchange rates are negligible. Most banks in Belgrade will change travellers cheques, American Express, Thomas Cook, VISA and Eurocheques. Western Union money transfers from abroad can be collected from the post office and most banks. Cards widely acceptable in Belgrade are VISA, VISA Electron, MasterCard, Eurocard, Maestro and local DinaCard

POPULATION

Serbia's population in 2011, excluding Kosovo and Metohija, came to 7.565.761. The population of Belgrade in the same year was 1,731,425. The country's ethnic make up (without Kosovo and Metohija), was: Serbs 83.32%, Hungarians 3.53%, Roma 2.05%, Bosniaks 202%, and others 9.08%.

The official language is Serbian, with Cyrillic as the official script. However the Latin script is also used just as much as Cyrillic script.

RELIGION

Orthodox Christianity is the major religion in Serbia. The Serbian Orthodox Church became autonomous in 1219. Other important religious communities are those of Judaism, Catholicism and Islam.

Knez Mihailova Street

The Knez Mihailova street pedestrian area, from Republic Square to Kalemegdan, is the centre of Belgrade in terms of shopping and in all other respects.

Terazije- Kralja Milana- Slavija

This area is just as exclusive as the above shopping area, at least the part around the Terazije square. Foreign and local brands will tempt you from all sides on the kilometre-and-a-half-long shopping route. As you approach Slavija square the exclusivity diminishes, but so do the prices.

Bulevar Kralja Aleksandra

If someone in Belgrade tells you, "I bought it on the Bulevar", you should know that it is this boulevard they are talking about. It is also the longest street in Belgrade (8.2 km/5.1 miles), but the first few kilometres are enough to acquaint yourself with all the charms of Belgrade commerce. Unlike in other parts of town, this shopping street has literally everything - all kinds of goods, all levels of quality and all price ranges.

STUDENT ASSOCIATIONS

BELGRADE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Web site: www.ssb.org.rs

E-mail: officessb@gmail.com

Address: 4/3 Balkanska Str.

Belgrade Student Association (BSA) is an independent public organization, which started participating in public and academic life in Serbia in 1936. This makes it one of the oldest student organizations in the region. During its long-lasting and rich existence, BSA survived both peaceful and turbulent times. For decades it has been one of the torchbearers of social avant-garde, but also a target for ideological censure and political manipulation. Its media activity started in 1937, issuing the first student paper in the country called Student. There were projects, which grew into Radio Indeks and B92 radio stations, and the only student television in the country – TV Studentski grad.

Today, BSA is a decentralized umbrella organization incorporating 45. student associations from all the faculties of the University of Belgrade, higher vocational schools and student dormitories of the Belgrade area.

Organizing educational, cultural and sports manifestations, publishing and participating in the activities of higher-education and student-level institutions, BSA stand for the needs of students, representing, protecting and improving their rights and interests. Additionally, being an inevitable partner in the activities of the Ministry of Education and Sports and national bodies in charge of higher education, BSA participates in the creation of relevant legal regulations and the implementation of the Bologna process.

Through its reform-headed activities BSA both recognizes the rich heritage of domestic academic environment, and improves implementation of contemporary European achievements.

By embodying all critical activities of students, BSA undoubtedly holds a special position in the tradition of Serbian education.

STUDENT UNION OF SERBIA

Web site: <http://www.sus.org.rs>

E-mail: office@sus.org.rs

Address: Kamenička 6

The first Student Union was established in 1992, at the Faculty of Law in Belgrade. Abreast of the first union founding, emerged the idea of truly independent student unionization in Serbia. Working in public, democratic procedure of electing executive bodies, tremendous enthusiasm became the guiding fore of its activities.

Headquarters of the Student Union of Serbia (SUS) are located in Belgrade consequently. The SUS was mostly concerned with the problems of students of the University of Belgrade, the largest educational institution in the region. However, for better coordination and cooperation with the University management on one hand and firmer connection with the students on the other, the Student Union of the University of Belgrade (SUUB) was founded in May 2002.

Today, SUUB is one of the largest student organizations operating at the University. It actively participates in the activities of University affairs, and through the National Student Union (SUS) it also participates in enacting all the laws related to students and their life.

SUS is a full member of the largest European organization – European Student Union, which is the umbrella organization for 44 national student organizations from 34 European countries. There are 20 student unions at the higher education institutions and student dormitories in Belgrade today.

Association of Students of psychology, "Stimulus"

In the fall of 2000, when transformations occurred in Serbia, a group of students from the Philosophy Faculty of Belgrade was brought together with a desire to prompt some changes in their faculty. Subsequently they founded the Association of Psychology Students "Stimulus". The name of the association was intended to symbolize its role in the life of psychology. The aim of the Association is to initiate action and stimulate students, teachers and professionals for best possible cooperation and joint efforts in improving the study of psychology. Members of the "Stimulus" strive to contribute to improving the quality of the studies, the quality of student life, and the best manner of represent their faculty in the world.

The proudest we have been is when we co-operated with students from all over Europe. "Stimulus" is a member of the Association of Psychology Students, which is a member EFPSA (European Federation of Psychology Students Associations). In this way we carried out a number of student exchanges, as well as many other activities.

"If you are a student of psychology and want to do more, join us and you will have the opportunity to find out how a student organization realises ideas and gets involved in a large network made up of psychology students from all over Europe!"
